

SCRIPTS & SOPs

Communication Guide for Staff

AAA Extension Scripts · Objection Handling · LTC Client Education · Key Phrases

AAA Services Ending

Client Objects / Can't Afford PP

LTC Reimbursement Script

What NOT to Say

Coaching Guidelines

Key Reminders

Scripts & SOPs. Table of Contents

01

AAA Extension. Context & Policy

Why we cannot imply extensions are possible

02

Script: Services Ending

Exact wording when AAA services are ending this week

03

Script: Client Objects / Can't Afford PP

How to respond when a client pushes back

04

Script: LTC Insurance Explanation

How to explain the reimbursement model to clients

05

What NOT to Say. Red Lines

Phrases that must never be used with clients or families

06

Key Coaching Points for Staff

When and how to coach caregivers on common issues

SECTION 01

AAA Extension Policy - Context

Why AAA has restricted how we discuss service extensions with clients

IMPORTANT

AAA received complaints about consumers calling their offices after being told by our staff that extensions were a possibility. AAA has explicitly requested that we minimize any hope of extending services.

What Happened - The Problem

- Staff implied to clients that an extension might be possible
- Clients then called AAA directly asking about extensions
- AAA is not in a position to offer extensions.

What Is Required Going Forward

- Do NOT say anything that implies an extension is being considered or is possible
- If a client asks about extending, redirect clearly and warmly using the approved objection script
- This applies to ALL staff who interact with AAA clients, no exceptions

Remember: What AAA Actually Is

- AAA is a short-term, state-funded program through a non-profit, it is designed to be temporary by definition
 - Services are intended to assist families identifying long-term options OR to provide short-term support after hospital/rehab discharge
- AAA case managers DO NOT do extensions, directing clients there for that purpose creates frustration on both ends

Script: AAA Services Are Ending

Approved wording when informing a client their services end this week

Script - AAA Services Ending This Week

Section 02

When a client's AAA services are ending within the week and you are informing them or transitioning the conversation toward private pay.

USE THIS EXACT WORDING

"Your AAA services are ending this week. We would like to offer private pay services so you can continue to get the care you need."

Why This Wording Works

- Clearly communicates the service end date without softening it
- Immediately pivots to a solution (private pay) instead of leaving a void
- Does NOT mention extensions or suggest they're possible

Do NOT Say Instead:

- "We're going to see if we can get you an extension"
- "Let me check if AAA can continue your services"
- "I'll look into whether there are more weeks available"
- Anything that implies we are working toward keeping AAA going

Script: Client Objects or Can't Afford PP

How to respond when a client pushes back on private pay after AAA ends

Script - Client Objects or Can't Afford Private Pay

Section 03

After presenting private pay and the client says they can't afford it, objects, or asks about extending AAA or finding another solution.

USE THIS EXACT WORDING

"I understand. Unfortunately, AAA is a short-term service through a non-profit. If you would like additional resources, you can reach out to your AAA manager to see if they can connect you with any other resources that could help. However, they do not do extensions of services."

What This Script Accomplishes

- Clearly and definitively states AAA does NOT do extensions
- Directs client to their AAA case manager for additional resources (without creating false hope)

Do NOT Say Instead:

- "Let me see what I can do to help extend your services"
- "I'll talk to AAA and see if there's a way to keep you on"
- "AAA might be able to make an exception for your situation"

Script: Explaining LTC Insurance to Clients

How to clearly communicate the reimbursement model without creating confusion

Script - Explaining LTC Insurance Reimbursement

Section 04

On every inquiry call where a client or family mentions they have Long-Term Care Insurance. Use this BEFORE care begins to prevent billing confusion later.

Use this wording:

"Long-term care insurance works on a reimbursement basis. You would pay us directly, and then your insurance company reimburses you after we submit invoices and care notes each week. We help support you through that entire process."

What to Reinforce

- Reimbursement is sent to the CLIENT, not to Right at Home
- We submit weekly invoices + care notes to their carrier
- Each carrier has its own timeline; we cannot guarantee when reimbursement arrives

Never Say or Imply:

- "Your insurance will pay us directly"
- "You won't need to pay anything out of pocket"
- "Reimbursement usually takes about [X] weeks"
- Do not guarantee any specific reimbursement timeline
- Do not suggest the client's carrier will definitely approve the claim

What NOT to Say

- Red Lines

Phrases that are prohibited and could damage client relationships or payer relationships

Red Lines - Phrases That Must Never Be Used

Section 05

"Let me see if I can get you an extension."

This directly implies extensions are possible. AAA has explicitly asked us to stop this.

"I'll check with AAA to see if there's anything they can do."

Do not contact AAA on a client's behalf about extensions.

"Your insurance pays us, so you don't have to worry."

LTC insurance is reimbursement-based, the client pays us first, then gets reimbursed.

"You'll be reimbursed within [X] weeks for sure."

We cannot guarantee timelines, every LTC carrier has different processing times.

"AAA might be able to make an exception for your situation."

AAA does not make exceptions. Do not suggest this to clients.

SECTION 06

Key Coaching Points for Staff

When to coach caregivers, how to document it, and common coaching situations

Staff Coaching - When and How

Section 06

Situation: CG clocking out late (15+ min) repeatedly

Coaching: Remind CG of the clock-out process and authorized end times. Confirm they understand the task/mileage steps before their next shift. If Well Sky is the issue, flag it as a tech problem.

Situation: CG entering 'Home to Client's Home' mileage

Coaching: Explain that we do not reimburse home-to-client mileage — this is the CG's personal cost. Ask them to only enter mileage for client-to-client travel. Remove the entry from billing.

Situation: CG or client repeatedly going over VA/AAA authorization hours

Coaching: Coach both the CG and client on the authorized hours for each day. Remind the CG to begin the clock-out process a few minutes before the shift ends to account for Well Sky steps.

Situation: CG assisting with tasks not in the authorized ADL list (errands, housekeeping, medications)

Coaching: Review the authorized ADLs with the CG. Remind them that VA/AAA/GUIDE clients have strict task restrictions. Unauthorized tasks could jeopardize both billing and the client's program eligibility.

 Document every coaching conversation in Well Sky — note what was discussed, date, and CG name. Recurring issues may require formal documentation.

Quick Reference Approved Scripts at a Glance

AAA Services Ending

"Your AAA services are ending this week. We would like to offer private pay services so you can continue to get the care you need."

Client Objects / Can't Afford PP

"I understand. Unfortunately, AAA is a short-term service through a non-profit... However, they do not do extensions of services."

LTC Insurance - Reimbursement Explanation

"Long-term care insurance works on a reimbursement basis. You would pay us directly, and then your insurance company reimburses you after we submit invoices and care notes each week. We help support you through that entire process."

Never Say:

"Let me see if I can get you an extension"

"Your insurance pays us directly"

"I'll check with AAA for you"

"Reimbursement takes about X weeks"

Script Summary

- AAA services ending use the approved script - never mention extensions or imply they are possible
- Client objects to private pay: acknowledge empathetically, then redirect to AAA case manager for resources only
- LTC Insurance: always explain reimbursement model upfront - client pays us, carrier reimburses the client
- Never guarantee reimbursement timelines or imply insurance pays Right at Home directly
- Coach caregivers on recurring late clock-outs, home-to-client mileage, and task restrictions
- Document every coaching conversation in Well Sky with date and content